

NEW YORK HERALD, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1858.

Court of Common Pleas—Special Term.

Before Judge Brady.

IMPORTANT TO CREDITORS OF CORPORATIONS.

On Wednesday last an order was obtained by Biss & Brown, one of the creditors of the North American Guite Pechia Company, to compel the latter, by their President, to make discovery, on oath, concerning their property. The defendants refused to do so, claiming, on the ground that it concerned the secret of their business. It was argued by Henry S. Bennett for plaintiffs; and Wm. H. Leonard for defendants. The Court held that a corporation, not being a "person," could not be examined as other deponents, and directed the plaintiff to appear before the court under section 232 of the Code, regarding the President of the corporation to appear as one of the debtors to the corporation defendant, which was also denied—the Court deciding that no proceedings could be had against corporations under either of the above sections of the Code.

ANOTHER BORROWER.—The Green Bay Advocate says that the only son of the late Rev. Eleazar Williams, and, of course, the next heir to the throne of France (of his father's pretensions were well founded), is now engaged as a pilot on one of the lake Winnebagoe steamers. He is a fine looking young man, a striking resemblance to his father, but is too modest, we think, to urge his claim.
